

Proclamation

Presented to

The University of Hawai'i, Leeward Community College Health Information Technology Program

WHEREAS, the University of Hawai'i, Leeward Community College (LCC) recognizes the State of Hawai'i's need for Health Information Technology education; and

WHEREAS, LCC has developed an online outreach education program to reach neighbor islands and rural areas scheduled to be delivered beginning Summer 2014; and

WHEREAS, LCC has attained provisional approval for its Associate in Science-Health Information Technology Degree by the University of Hawai'i Board of Regents; and

WHEREAS, LCC attained approval by the American Health Information Management Association (AHIMA) Foundation's Professional Certificate Approval Program (PCAP) for an articulated coding program; and

WHEREAS, LCC has achieved candidacy status with the Commission for Accreditation of Health Informatics and Information Management (CAHIIM) for its Associate in Science-Health Information Technology degree; and

WHEREAS, LCC College strives to obtain accreditation with the Commission for Accreditation of Health Informatics and Information Management for its Associate in Science-Health Information Technology Degree in 2014;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, NEIL ABERCROMBIE, Governor, and I, SHAN S. TSUTSUI, Lieutenant Governor for the State of Hawai'i, do hereby proclaim April 3, 2014, as in Hawai'i, and ask all citizens of the Aloha State to join us in recognizing the growing importance of Health Information Technology education and Leeward Community College's efforts in addressing this need.

DONE at the State Capitol, in Executive Chambers, Honolulu, State of Hawai'i, this twenty-eighth day of March, 2014.

NEIL ABERCROMBIE
Governor, State of Hawai'i

SHAN S. TSUTSUI
Lt. Governor, State of Hawai'i
